President's Letter

Spring in Evansville has been a bit tumultuous from stormy skies and tornado-like winds, but this Springtime month also presents a focus on volunteerism. Did you know that April is National Volunteer Month? Each month we host at least three local non-profit organizations before and after our monthly meetings. If you are seeking an opportunity to give back to our community, be sure to check out the non-profit tables and find your niche.

There are a few remaining spots available for non-profits at our meetings later this year, so please reach out to Michelle Smith to reserve a table.

We are very fortunate to welcome Chris Ryan, Chief Executive Officer, from The Women's Hospital, as our speaker this month to discuss "Maintaining a Work/Life Balance". This is relevant information that we can all use for our professional and personal benefit. Chris is also the 2018 Athena Recipient. Please visit the ANEW website to further review the extensive contribution and impact that Chris gives to our local community in her shared bio.

Please plan to attend this riveting meeting and consider inviting a guest to attend, too. Timely reservations are sincerely appreciated and remind your guests that the $25 guest fee is due on the day of the event.

Mentoring Program with ANEW

The ANEW Mentoring Program exists to create a more diverse organization and broaden our reach to more professional women.

The main objective of the Mentoring Membership program is to promote growth of ANEW by investing in the next generation of our community leaders while mentoring and inspiring their leadership potential. You can learn more on our website, and feel free to invite guests each month who would benefit from our wonderful network of professionals.

Advertising with ANEW!

A Featured Advertiser is still needed for the August meeting. If you are interested, please contact Angie Hargett. In addition to yearly recognition in our monthly newsletter and the website, this spot allows 5 minutes of fame at the podium and distributing advertising materials to the tables.
